

ASSOCIATIONS, AWARDS & EVENTS

HPDC helps Habitat for Humanity

The staff of the Housing Partnership Development Corporation, one of the nation's largest nonprofit producers of affordable housing, stepped out of the office and onto the worksite at Habitat for Humanity NYC's Atlantic Sherlock Parkway Housing, a 41-unit, workforce condominium in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn.

Among other investors, the Housing Partnership played a vital role in acquiring $1.64 million in New York State Affordable Housing Corporation (AHC) subsidies for this development to take place. Pictured to the left is Housing Partnership counsel John Fields, Esq. clamping shelving supports in place.

